fices may find comfort in the fact that holding office has not always proved a good thing for incumbents. Attorney J. W. Davis, nominated by the republicans for probate judge, and attorney H. L. Beard, nominated by the democrats for the same office, are both former Normalities.

It is a safe guess that two years hence a number of the gentlemen who failed to secure nominations for county offices on Tuesday will be just as gay in the running as if they had never been outfooted.

All through the exciting Ohio campaign Gen. Grosvenor, the sage of Athens, known the country over as "Old Figgers," was as mum as though never interested in politics. He had no figgers to offer to comfort either Taft or Teddy.

While the candidates got around not a little in the rural districts they did not much interfere with farm work as rain kept tillers of the soil out of fields most of the time while the campaign lasted.

In Tuesday's primaries Roosevelt swept Ohio by a plurality of 25,000 and will get 32 and Taft 10 of the district delegates of the state. Harmon made a cleaned sweep of the state, and will have 48 delegates from Ohio in the Baltimore convention.

Answering an inquisitive subscribr as to what kind of a dark horse Mr. Bryan has in grooming for the presidential nomination the Houston (Tex.) Post says "One that has considerable track experience, brown eyes, a large and ready mouth and a bald head."

After former Congressman James Kennedy of Youngstown saw what the voters in this district did to standpatters at the primaries Tuesday he probably went into temporary seclusion and gave himself a hearty hug that he did not permit himself to be 321; Harmon, 364; Wilson, 103. made a target for ballots in trying for a renomination.

There is likely to be a warm time in the republican county convention D. F. Anderson is an avowed candidate for governor and he desires the endorsement of the convention. It is known that there will be delegates in the convention who are against Mr. Anderson for any office to which he may aspire and they may be depended upon to block his endorsement for the governor nomination if it is at all possible. But Det is a fighter and may win out.
